

POLITICIANS IN COUNTY BUSY AS ELECTION NEARS

The political situation in Adams county for the April 25 primaries is rapidly drawing to a climax with the final grooming taking place on various angles. Much, of course, was dependent on the action of state chieftains. With the muddled senatorial waters cleared, the tempo in the county is expected to be increased.

Of major importance is the campaign for Congress.

Congressman Chester H. Gross, completing his second term in the lower house in Washington, is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket.

One Out for Congress

The name of Leighton C. Taylor, of Bendersville, has been prominently mentioned in several quarters as a probable candidate for the GOP nomination. Taylor was a candidate for the post in 1932 and was defeated in the Democratic landslide. The Bendersville attorney recently stated that he had not reached a decision. He said that he had been pressed from several quarters but had not made up his mind.

On the Democratic side George L. Schiebel, of York, has announced his candidacy. He was defeated for the Democratic nomination in 1938.

Roy P. Funkhouser, general manager of the Victor Products corporation here, was being hard-pressed by his friends in York and Franklin counties, as well as Adams, to enter the campaign. Mr. Funkhouser told a reporter for the Gettysburg Times that he was not a candidate.

Basehore Running Again

John H. Basehore is a candidate for re-election to the office of Republican county chairman. He is completing his second term.

There have been rumors that Fred G. Pfeffer would enter the field for that office but the burgess of Gettysburg has not given much consideration to the encouragement of his friends. Some of his intimate friends state that he will not be a candidate.

Chauncey Smith, of McSherrystown, is the only announced candidate for Republican state committeeman to succeed Dr. Eugene Elgin, of East Berlin, who has resigned.

Two for Legislature

Senator Paul M. Crider of Chambersburg, is a candidate for re-election to the State Senate on the Republican ticket. There are no other announced candidates thus far, on either ticket.

Francis Worley is a candidate for re-election to the General Assembly on the GOP ticket. His only opponent thus far is H. Earl Pitzer of Aspers. No Democrats have announced.

Mrs. Esther Hayberger is a candidate for re-election to the GOP vice-chairmanship.

Elect Committee

The Republicans will elect three committeemen from each of the 42 election districts. Democrats will elect from three to eight committeemen or women from each voting district, depending upon the number of registered voters in each precinct. They elect their county chairman at a post-primary convention.

Candidates started circulating petitions on February 5. March 5 is the last day to file petitions. March 25 is the last day to register before the primary, although a voter may register any time at the court house prior to that date. March 25 is the last day to notify registrars of a change in address.

U. S. DESTROYER SINKS 4 SHIPS

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP) — The wiping out of a four-ship Japanese convoy by the destroyer Burns as American forces swarmed into the Marshall Islands ten days ago was announced last night by the Navy.

The action, located only as "in the Marshall Islands area," occurred Jan. 31, west longitude date.

The 2,100-ton Burns, launched in the fall of 1942 at Charleston, S. C., and commanded by 38-year-old Comdr. Donald T. Eller, of Petersburg, Va., was accompanying a carrier task force assigned to the central Pacific invasion fleet at the time.

Temporarily separated from the task force while she picked up Navy fliers who had been forced down at sea, the Burns was returning to her assigned station when she sighted the four Jap ships—a tanker, one medium cargo vessel and two smaller craft. Opening up with her five-inch guns, she sank the lot.

COUNTIANS HACK AT BOND QUOTA: NEED $297,163

Adams countians are steadily chopping away at the "E" bond quota for this area in the Four Bond campaign and driving hard at the quota for all other bonds to individuals, according to the announcement of the bond sales through February 8 from the Federal Reserve district.

The change in tabulating the returns was invoked to have the official figures as they are reported to state headquarters which includes bond sales made to countians and others and credited to this county.

Through the close of business Tuesday "E" bond sales to countians amounted to $25,300. With a quota of $494,561 this leaves $241,267 worth of "E" bonds still to be sold by the county to reach that quota.

The sale of all other bonds to individuals totals $374,100. The quota for those six remaining issues is $429,995 leaving an unsold balance of $55,895.

Need "E" Bond Sales

Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county War Finance committee, appealed to a specific source of prospective bond buyers today to help put Adams county "over the top."

"I would like to appeal to our good countians of more than moderate means," said Mr. Thomas, "those people who have accumulated some savings or have inherited some money to invest some of that money in 'E' bonds. Their purchases will have a most heartening effect not only on all other countians but on our boys at the front. It will stimulate our working class of people and their support of this campaign will demonstrate again, as it has been demonstrated so often in the past that all of Adams county backs off this drive to earn that most coveted victory."

"We need but $297,163 worth of bond purchases to reach our quota. Let us all dig in just a little bit harder now and buy an extra bond."

$1,000 BLAZE AT WENKSVILLE

A frame butcher and spring house on the Grayson Showers farm at the edge of Wenksville on the Bendersville road was destroyed by fire Wednesday night when only the services of Bendersville and Arenstville firemen prevented the flames from razing other buildings. The dwelling house, which stood within 10 feet of the smaller structure, caught fire at several points but the flames were checked before serious damage was done.

The fire was discovered by several boys who were passing the property at about 10 o'clock. After considerable difficulty, they aroused the family of Ralph Stoner, the tenant, who had retired, and calls were placed for the Bendersville and Arenstville companies.

Building Is Levelled

The one and a half story building was levelled. Total loss, which included machinery and equipment in the building, was estimated today as high as $1,000 and is partly covered by insurance. The building measured 16 by 24 feet.

A washing machine and other equipment belonging to Mr. Showers were burned while a new electric pump worth about $100 was lost. The pump was the property of E. E. Rice, Bendersville, who recently sold the farm to Mr. Showers who resides in Bendersville.

With only a limited water supply, the firemen brought the flames under control with water from their booster tank systems.

Firemen Vote $25 To Red Cross

A donation of $25 to the Adams County Red Cross was voted by the Gettysburg Fire company at its regular meeting at the engine house Wednesday evening.

Many Bargains Available

Some staples of other semi-annual clearances will be missing from the shelves this year because of wartime shortages, it was stated, but the number is small and hundreds of other articles are available in large quantities.

Sales forces have been re-arranging the articles on the shelves during the past week to present the merchandise in better form so that the buyers can more easily find the bargains they will be looking for during the event.

With everything in readiness for the event, the merchants cooperated with The Gettysburg Times today in presenting a special Clearance Days edition of the Times which outlines the many bargains being offered for sale. Besides the special items listed in the advertisements, the merchants said, additional bargains are available at the stores.

A group of Gettysburgians interested in the Army Air Forces program in Gettysburg, scheduled for abandonment in a few months, went to Washington Wednesday to confer with Washington officials relative to a reconsideration of the War department order which will close the local unit.

Among those with whom the local committee conferred was Congressman Chester H. Gross of the Adams-York-Franklin county district.

Those making the trip were Edmund W. Thomas, Henry M. Scharf, Mares Sherman and Paul L. Roy. At the request of the committee Richard Bircher, owner-operator of the local airport, accompanied the group.

Further Cut In 1944 Tires; May Curb Bus, Truck Hauls

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP) — For the armed forces and for industry, as well as for Joe Motorist, the tire famine is on.

Along with the disclosure that civilians will get 20 to 40 per cent fewer tires in 1944 than expected, Rubber Director Bradley Dewey hinted that essential truck and bus hauling might have to be curtailed.

There is a gap between demand and production of tires for airplanes, combat vehicles and other military uses, Dewey said, and "an even more severe" shortage of heavy-duty truck and bus tires.

NEW SUCCESSES ASSURE ALLIES IN PACIFIC WAR

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Our amazingly quick victory over the Mikado's stronghold in the heart of the Marshall's has enabled us to complete our measurements of the Japanese and to confirm that while he is tough, crafty and ruthless, we can handle him—not easily but well.

The Kwaijain atoll job has, so to speak, put us over the top both militarily and psychologically in our preliminary offensive leading to the final assault on the main enemy citadel—the Japanese mainland. In the words of salty Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, this triumph will "serve to speed up the tempo" of our operations.

Tokyo gets the feel of this, too. Premier Tojo tells his legislature that the war is "increasing in ferocity day by day and we are now being confronted with the situation where the fate of the greater east Asia sphere and the rise and fall of imperial Japan will be decided. The present situation does not indicate that the road is to be easy." Nipponese military and political leaders believe the outcome of the war will be decided this year.

It's significant that in this changing situation the Japanese, like the Hitlerites, are concentrating on the manufacture of defensive types of warplanes rather than the offensive heavy bombers. That's the thermometer with which we get the enemy temperature. The little men of the Rising Sun have taken a page from the Nazi book of strategy and are going to fight a defensive, delaying action in the hope of tiring us out so that we will leave them in possession of some of their ill-got gains.

Short of Ships

One of Japan's main difficulties is lack of sea transportation. The official Domei news agency yesterday informed the controlled Asiatic press that transportation problems are limiting the country's use of the resources of the occupied areas.

That's glad news. Untold wealth lies in China and Indonesia—but the Mikado hasn't the ships to bring it home. Upon these riches he is dependent to win the war. Admiral Nimitz added a line to this yesterday by stating that the enemy lacks destroyers "to escort their convoys or to make up an adequate battle fleet."

Despite our superiority on the sea, Nimitz holds that "the Japs can only be defeated from bases in China" and his objective is "to get our ground and air forces into China as early as possible." That fits perfectly the strategy which the Allied high command apparently has been working on, that is, to make bombing the chief weapon for the reduction of Japan proper.

Need China Bases

In order to bring the full weight of the vast Anglo-American air fleets to bear on Tokyo, Osaka and other great cities, we must have bases in China. That of course involves a hard and complicated task of invasion. Nimitz intimates that his Navy, Marine corps and Army forces will have a big hand in this China drive.

However, that will be part of the final all-out offensive, which presumably can't be carried out until Hitler has been finished off. It's going to be a titanic operation to open up China, dig the Japanese out of their defenses and drive them back so that we can establish airfields and supply bases within easy striking distance of the heart of the Japanese octopus—Tokyo.

Pending release of equipment from Europe we don't lack preliminaries to occupy our time. We have to complete piercing Japan's eastern shield, of which the Marshalls have been such an important part. And we proceed amidst signs that the enemy's defensive structure in the Pacific is crumbling under the Allied assault.

Speech, Hearing Clinic Conducted

Fourteen Adams county students attended a speech and hearing clinic held Wednesday at Fairfield high school under the direction of Dr. Harold Westlake, of the state Department of Public Instruction.

Philadelphia, Feb. 10 (AP)—Serum needed to save the life of 13-month-old Anna Bradley, who is critically ill with influenza meningitis, is being flown from Chicago. It was reported today at Woman's hospital.

Dr. Wesley Fox of the hospital staff said American Airlines has located 25 milligrams of the special serum in Chicago and expects to deliver it late today.

Another potential source of serum developed when the physician treating Robert Betsy is, also stricken with influenza meningitis, said the unused portion of 50 grams he obtained from Pittsburgh will be made available for Anna.

Asks Farmers To Check Equipment

Wise farmers are checking their farm equipment in February so it will be ready to go in the spring. Clarence A. Myers, Farm Security Administration Supervisor in York, Adams and Dauphin counties said today in urging that orders for needed repair parts be placed immediately.

We are reminding FSA families to get their plows sharpened and tractors in condition now, rather than wait until they are ready to go to the fields with them," Myers said. "Also, now is the time for the farmer to put in necessary wooden parts in his equipment—cut and form the single and double trees he may need, and replace any broken ax or hoe handles."

In checking farm machinery, Myers suggests seeing if the planters are in good order or if the planes need adjusting to drop the seed evenly. "Just one day lost at planting time may mean the loss of essential moisture, and in turn loss of food for freedom," he emphasized.

Allied Planes Bomb South France Harbor

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Feb. 10 (AP)—Allied headquarters announced today that American Spitfires flew over Nice harbor yesterday thereby disclosing that the Allies have fighter plane bases within easy range of southern France—a prerequisite to any invasion of southern France.

The Spitfires scored four hits on the stern of an 8,000-ton freighter and battled with several Focke-Wulf 190s, shooting down one.

Spitfires already are operating from a newly constructed landing ground on the Anzio beachhead, it was disclosed.

American engineers went to work with bulldozers on the morning of the initial landings less than three weeks ago to prepare the base, laboring from dawn to dusk under occasional shellfire.

URGES GARDENS AGAIN TO CURB POTATO BORER

Owen Coble was the guest of honor at a party held recently at his home in Bendersville in celebration of his 15th birthday anniversary. Guests included members of his Sunday school class taught by Mrs. Glenn Fetters.

Harrisburg, Feb. 10 (AP)—Victory gardeners today were urged by Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst to plan an organized campaign during the next two months against the European corn borer to prevent repetition of last year's damage to corn and potato crops in southeastern and northwestern counties.

The official in an address prepared for the State Defense Council's Victory Garden committee said that April 15 is the deadline for cleaning up, and burning or buying all corn and other heavy-stemmed plant refuse to kill borers and check their spread.

The committee was called into session to plan for the coming garden season. Mrs. H. B. Ellison, chairman, prepared a program aimed at increased home production of vegetables and community canning activities.

1,400,000 in State Pennsylvania had an estimated 1,400,000 of the nation's 20,000,000 gardens last year but the committee will be asked to set the goal even higher for 1944. The national goal is 22,000,000 gardens.

Horst said that in addition to the proposed garden clean-up campaign, a similar drive among farmers in the infested areas is planned by the Agricultural Extension Service of Pennsylvania State college.

"These efforts," he declared, "must be carried to every Victory garden and farm corn field in every infested county if they are to be effective. Spotty clean-ups here and there will not prevent spread and damage next season."

Dr. Warren B. Mack, Pennsylvania State College horticulturist, and the committee's executive secretary, declared before the meeting "because we had enough to eat last year does not mean that we can afford to slow down production this year."

"Increased demands from the armed forces and from people in occupied territory," he added, "together with farm labor shortages, make home gardening a virtual necessity."

Dr. Mack also advised an early start on this year's gardens and recommended that gardeners prepare a garden map to scale to be used as a guide in buying seeds, fertilizer and insecticides.

Without Clues To Tire Shop Robbery

Local police are still without a clue to the week-end robbery of Reel's Tire Service, Buford avenue, Chief of Police Glenn Guise said today.

The station was robbed of 15 new tires, a recapped tire and gasoline and other supplies either late Sunday night or early Monday morning in the biggest tire robbery in Adams county since tire retying began. The tires were valued at $300. Admittance to the building was gained by breaking a rear window.

Hold Military Rites For Capt. C. M. Taute

Funeral services for Capt. Carl M. Taute, 56, superintendent of the Gettysburg National cemetery, who died Monday morning following an illness of two weeks, were held Wednesday afternoon from Trinity Lutheran church, Sharpsburg, Maryland.

The Army and Navy Lodge of Masons of Ft. Monroe, Virginia, furnished the pallbearers and conducted graveside services in the Antietam National cemetery. A firing squad and bugler from Hagerstown participated in the service.

They are paid 80 cents a day for their own use, with the remainder of the basic 50 cents an hour pay going for maintenance of prison camps in this country.

Seabrook said the Germans were "very much pleased" with their jobs pruning in the orchards and working in the processing plants. Much of the product goes to the United States armed forces. Non-commissioned officers among the prisoners act as foremen of the work crews.

Seabrook, whose farms have been hit by a labor shortage, said the American Meat Cutters Union (AFL), which has a bargaining contract with the farms, approved of the prisoner labor.

She charged "cruel and barbarous treatment" and personal indignities. They were married in 1938.

Mrs. Fiske, formerly divorced from Harry Grassell of Cleveland and Lucius D. Cochran of Youngstown, Ohio, is the daughter of the inventor of the Omaha taxi meter and heiress to industrial plants in Akron, Ohio. Fiske and his first wife, Helen Lowe Rice of New York city, were divorced in 1935.

DOOR OPEN FOR 4TH TERM DRAFT

Owen Coble was the guest of honor at a party held recently at his home in Bendersville in celebration of his 15th birthday anniversary. Guests included members of his Sunday school class taught by Mrs. Glenn Fetters.

Mrs. George S. Forney, Bainbridge, Maryland, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis H. Lady, Biglerville, Wednesday.

Pfc. Fern Heller, Women's Reserve Marine Corps, New River, Connecticut, is spending an eight-day furlough with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Heller, Biglerville.

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—

President Roosevelt has left the political door sufficiently ajar for a fourth term draft to blow through.

The opening was left in his answer to a straight-to-the-point question at this regular Tuesday afternoon news conference as to whether he would "accept a fourth term nomination."

He said he had no news on that at the time.

It was a stock reply which the President has used repeatedly. In fact, he called it an old killer of stories.

But politicians, already fairly well agreed that the chief executive will run again, noted that it did not rule out such a possibility.

Mr. Roosevelt, who awarded dunces caps to reporters who asked third term questions in 1940, displayed a willingness to receive political questions yesterday. He even said he loved to have them asked. But he summed up the whole discussion at one point by opinion that everyone present was confused.

Newsmen, mentioning that Henry Wallace had said at San Francisco

Monday that he did not know whether he would be a candidate for vice president again but that he had, no doubt, Mr. Roosevelt, would run once more, raised the issue.

The attitude of the present Admini stration, he asserted, is "I'll tell you

American people what and when I want you to know."

"I am disturbed," he said, "about the cynicism that is prevalent today

among leaders—among some ready cash."

NEW SUCCESSES ASSURE ALLIES IN PACIFIC WAR

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Our amazingly quick victory over the Mikado's stronghold in the heart of the Marshalls has enabled us to complete our measurements of the Japanese and to confirm that while he is tough, crafty and ruthless, we can handle him—not easily but well.

The Kwajalein atoll job has, so to speak, put us over the top both militarily and psychologically in our preliminary offensive leading to the final assault on the main enemy citadel—the Japanese mainland. In the words of salty Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, this triumph will "serve to speed up the tempo" of our operations.

See Outcome Soon

Tokyo gets the feel of this, too. If producers do not start stockpiling now for 1944 use, thus giving dealers a market for their stored containers, the salvage of certain types of containers may be discontinued for lack of storage space.

165 PRISONERS WORK ON FARMS

Bridgeport, N. J., Feb. 10 (AP)—Under constant guard, 165 German war prisoners who fought in the African campaign are working in the orchards and the dehydration plants of Seabrook farms, a large commercial enterprise.

The prisoners, interned in a former Civilian Conservation Corps camp in Parvin State park, volunteered for the work, said Jack Seabrook, vice president and general manager of the farms.

They are paid 80 cents a day for their own use, with the remainder of the basic 50 cents an hour pay going for maintenance of prison camps in this country.

Seabrook said the Germans were "very much pleased" with their jobs pruning in the orchards and working in the processing plants. Much of the product goes to the United States armed forces. Non-commissioned officers among the prisoners act as foremen of the work crews.

Seabrook, whose farms have been hit by a labor shortage, said the American Meat Cutters Union (AFL), which has a bargaining contract with the farms, approved of the prisoner labor.

Maroons' Title Chances Hang On Outcome Of Tilt With Trojans Here Friday.

Eyes of followers of the Southern Pennsylvania basketball league race will be focused on the Gettysburg-Chambersburg game here Friday evening which will go a long way in deciding the Southern Division and probably the ultimate league champion.

By far the largest crowd of the season is certain and the seating capacity of the local gymnasium will be augmented by the addition of stands at the ends of the playing court.

Doors to the gymnasium will be thrown open at 6:15 o'clock.

Friday's game stacks up as the outstanding league tilt of the season.

Visitors Unbeaten

Chambersburg comes here with one of its best teams in history. The Franklin countians have swept through 14 straight games without defeat and need but to win Friday night to clinch the Southern Division honors.

On the other hand the Maroons have played 13 games, winning 10. One of their defeats was a 34-29 reverse sustained at Chambersburg.

It will be another "do or die" game for the Maroons who hurdled a similar obstacle last week at Hanover. If Gettysburg loses it will be out of the race but a victory would put the teams in a deadlock for the division title and make a playoff necessary. Gettysburg must still play Waynesboro at Waynesboro while Chambersburg meets Hanover at Chambersburg but neither team is expected to have much trouble in those games.

Top Scorers Meet

Top scorers of the Southern Division will be in action in the game. Leading the pack is Captain George Leisher, Trojan center, who has tabbed 66 points for the season. In second place is Bobby March, Maroon forward, with 57 tallies. Joe Howard and Jack Dorsey, Chambersburg, forwards, are third and fourth respectively with 43 and 42 points. In fifth spot is George Fair, Maroon center, who has tallied 40 times.

Stopping Leisher will be but one of the assignments for Gettysburg.

Player Shortage Grid Game Problem

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10 (AP) — Playing material looks like the big problem for all professional league teams. Charles (Chili) Walsh, Cleveland Rams grid coach, said here today as he conferred with the Pittsburgh Steelers' co-owner, Art Rooney.

But both were non-committal on prospects of their two clubs merging for the 1944 season as the Steelers and Philadelphia Eagles did last year to their mutual benefit both in games won and at the box office.

Walsh, who has already announced that his gridders will play this year after sitting out the 1943 campaign, said he has a nucleus of nine linemen and one backfield player who were with other National league clubs last season under the player distribution plan.

The Steelers have announced they will not team up with the Eagles, unless they can get one-half of the home games in Pittsburgh.

JOHNS HOPKINS WINGS ANGELS

After a fast start which saw them net their first 10 shots, Johns Hopkins university was forced to put on a last quarter spurt to defeat the Lutheran Theological seminary quintet at Baltimore Wednesday evening 50-32.

After a slow start, the Angels came back strong and cut the Johns Hopkins' lead to 32-30 in the third period but the home team used its reserve punch and through its quick-breaking offense again took a commanding lead.

Scoring was fairly even for the Angels with Whitmoyer's floor game sparkling the team during its mid-game surge.

On Saturday the seminarians will play the Western Maryland ASTP unit at Westminster.

BIGLER GIRLS CAPTURE WEST SHORE HONORS

Samuel Elsham's Biglerville high school's girl basketball team won its first outright championship of the West Shore scholastic league Wednesday evening by crushing Enola high at Enola 40-20.

The victory marked the tenth in a row for the Canners who have not been beaten this season.

Although one game remains to be played with Lemoyne, the Biglerville team cannot be ousted from first place as Camp Hill, the second place team, has dropped two games, both to Biglerville.

The Biglerville lassies sewed up the decision in quick order Wednesday evening by going out in front 22-9 at half time. The reserve teams played most of the last half.

In the second game of the evening the Biglerville high boys lost 28-18. Coach Snyder's lads put up a bitter struggle in the first half but faded out in the second half.

Biglerville will entertain Dover at Biglerville Tuesday evening.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.: New York, Feb. 10 (AP) — One of the Navy's well-informed scuttlebutts produces the report that nine baseball players are being transferred from the Norfolk Naval Training Station to Treasure Island near San Francisco and that Great Lakes may feel the pinch next. Norfolk hasn't confirmed the story, but it may be significant that a manpower survey was made there last week with the idea of "streamlining" shore personnel.

The WPIAL English-style relays will be held at Connellsville April 29. The league championship meet is scheduled for May 20, probably at Pittsburgh.

Maroons' Title Chances Hang On Outcome Of Tilt With Trojans Here Friday

Eyes of followers of the Southern Pennsylvania basketball league race will be focused on the Gettysburg-Chambersburg game here Friday evening which will go a long way in deciding the Southern Division and probably the ultimate league champion.

By far the largest crowd of the season is certain and the seating capacity of the local gymnasium will be augmented by the addition of stands at the ends of the playing court.

Doors to the gymnasium will be thrown open at 6:15 o'clock.

Friday's game stacks up as the outstanding league tilt of the season.

Visitors Unbeaten

Chambersburg comes here with one of its best teams in history. The Franklin countians have swept through 14 straight games without defeat and need but to win Friday night to clinch the Southern Division honors.

On the other hand the Maroons have played 13 games, winning 10. One of their defeats was a 34-29 reverse sustained at Chambersburg.

It will be another "do or die" game for the Maroons who hurdled a similar obstacle last week at Hanover. If Gettysburg loses it will be out of the race but a victory would put the teams in a deadlock for the division title and make a playoff necessary. Gettysburg must still play Waynesboro at Waynesboro while Chambersburg meets Hanover at Chambersburg but neither team is expected to have much trouble in those games.

Top Scorers Meet

Top scorers of the Southern Division will be in action in the game. Leading the pack is Captain George Leisher, Trojan center, who has tabbed 66 points for the season. In second place is Bobby March, Maroon forward, with 57 tallies. Joe Howard and Jack Dorsey, Chambersburg forwards, are third and fourth respectively with 43 and 42 points. In fifth spot is George Fair, Maroon center, who has tallied 40 times.

Stopping Leisher will be but one of the assignments for Gettysburg.

New York, Feb. 10 (AP) — One of the Navy's well-informed scuttlebutts produces the report that nine baseball players are being transferred from the Norfolk Naval Training Station to Treasure Island near San Francisco and that Great Lakes may feel the pinch next. Norfolk hasn't confirmed the story, but it may be significant that a manpower survey was made there last week with the idea of "streamlining" shore personnel. . . . SORE THUMB
How come,
Sore thumb,
That wherever I go
And whatever I touch,
You bother me so,
And hurt so much?

Explain
Why pain,
Whatever I do
To button or bolt
Reminds me of you
With a stinging jolt.

Why must
Each thrust
Of the pain I bear,
Like a throbbing drum,
Make me aware
That I have a thumb?

How come,
Sore thumb,
Is it ever so?
Is our teaching vain?
What we all should know
Must we learn from pain?

BOOK BROWSING

It's surprising how time flies when you are laid by a casual second-hand book shop. This often happens to me. The other evening it got me again! I was on my way to get my car home. But that wide-open door—and those thousands of books—book drunkard that I am, I could not resist.

And how glad I am that I yielded to temptation again. At home I was soundly taken to task for my lateness, but a 50-cent book, presented to the lady, has kept her awake nights ever since. And many a hunted volume came back for my all too overloaded library table.

For years I had hunted for a special book—and sure enough I found it—with the same sheet torn away—someone ashamed to let the world know that he had once been its owner and guardian. On several shelves were volumes of dear friends of mine, their books unappreciated and now on the twenty-five-cent shelf. One a wittily inscribed copy from the author, who would feel bad if he knew that one of his prized children had been tossed "to whom it may concern."

On shelf after shelf were to be found duplicate friends of mine, and heroes and heroines of the long, and almost forgotten, past. And every once in a long time is to be discovered a little "sleeper"—a rare first edition! I once bought one of these for a sum that cost me many a week of work, but which some lucky adventurer had paid the small amount of but one dollar to gain—Herman Melville's "Moby Dick".

Reading tastes are so different, else book shops would have a difficult time keeping books in stock. For ninety cents I discovered a book that kept me up nearly most of the night upon reaching home. Even now the thrill lingers!

All hail, and glory be to all the second-hand book shops! They are a great institution—and there should be at least one in every well-regulated town—and dozens in every large city. May they never go out of fashion!

Tomorrow—Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Secrecy."

SEND YOUTHS TO PRISON

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10 (AP)—Judge Frank P. Patterson sentenced Albert Schake, 19, to a 7-21 year term in prison and Christian Rastetter, 21, to 5 to 15 years yesterday. The two Pittsburgh youths pleaded guilty last month of 46 charges of burglary.

Mrs. Paul A. Martin entertained

the members of the Wednesday

Congress itself doing something to simplify the chore of paying federal taxes.

"Tax implication," declared Senator Byrd (D-Va.), sworn enemy of complicated questionnaires, "is one of the most challenging problems before Congress this year."

Jackass Questions Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) likened the present blanks to a Chinese puzzle.

One question in particular on Form 1040 aroused the grudging admiration of the legislators for its phrasing. It asks:

"Was the rate of your salary or wages increased or decreased during your taxable year? (Yes or No.)"

Senator Radcliffe (D-Md.), the only senator discovered to make out his own return, commented:

"Now isn't that a jackass question? Both the man who got a raise and the man whose wages were cut would have to answer 'yes.'"

SORE THUMB
How come,
Sore thumb,
That wherever I go
And whatever I touch,
You bother me so,
And hurt so much?

Explain
Why pain,
Whatever I do
To button or bolt
Reminds me of you
With a stinging jolt.

Why must
Each thrust
Of the pain I bear,
Like a throbbing drum,
Make me aware
That I have a thumb?

How come,
Sore thumb,
Is it ever so?
Is our teaching vain?
What we all should know
Must we learn from pain?

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

BOOK BROWSING
It's surprising how time flies when you are waylaid by a casual second-hand book shop. This often happens to me. The other evening it got me again! I was on my way to get my car home. But that wide-open door—and those thousands of books—book drunkard that I am, I could not resist.

And how glad I am that I yielded to temptation again. At home I was soundly taken to task for my lateness, but a 50-cent book, presented to the lady, has kept her awake nights ever since. And many a hunted volume came back for my all too overloaded library table.

For years I had hunted for a special book—and sure enough I found it—with the name sheet torn away—someone ashamed to let the world know that he had once been its owner and guardian. On several shelves were volumes of dear friends of mine, their books unappreciated and now on the twenty-five-cent shelf. One a wittily inscribed copy from the author, who would feel bad if he knew that one of his prized children had been tossed "to whom it may concern."

On shelf after shelf were to be found duplicate friends of mine, and heroes and heroines of the long, and almost forgotten, past. And every once in a long time is to be discovered a little "sleeper"—a rare first edition! I once bought one of these for a sum that cost me many a week of work, but which some lucky adventures had paid the small amount of but one dollar to gain—Herman Melville's "Moby Dick"!

Reading tastes are so different, else book shops would have a difficult time keeping books in stock. For ninety cents I discovered a book that kept me up nearly most of the night upon reaching home. Even now the thrill lingers!

All hail, and glory be to all the second-hand book shops! They are a great institution—and there should be at least one in every well-regulated town—and dozens in every large city. May they never go out of fashion!

Tomorrow—Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Secrecy."

Criterion Quartet Pleases Large Music-Loving Audience: Appearing before a large and most appreciative audience in Brusa Chapel Tuesday evening, the Criterion Quartet, of New York city, scored a big hit with Gettysburg music lovers. In addition to the quartet numbers, each member of the group sang solo offerings.

Under the able leadership of Rotarian Allen B. Piank and Lion I. L. Taylor, the luncheon was enlivened with songs.

In the course of the evening Rotarians and Lions stood with bowed heads for one minute in honor of the late President Woodrow Wilson.

Rotarians called upon for remarks were John D. Keith, Esq., Rev. W. C. Robinson, Major Courtland Nixon, S. F. Lehman, W. A. Miller and M. C. Jones. On behalf of the Lions J. President Wilson made a plea for men to uphold the government in times of peace. America was at peace when Mr. Wilson spoke here.

Berlin Embassy Joins Mourning: Washington, Feb. 6—The German embassy, which so far has given no official public expression of mourning in the death of Woodrow Wilson, few its flag at half-mast beginning at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when the executive departments of the government were closed to honor the memory of the former president.

Local Church Joins Drive: The Reformed Church in the United States is making a drive for $100,000 during the month of February in order to restore the churches and other buildings destroyed by the Japanese earthquake last September according to an announcement made on Sunday from the pulpit of Trinity Reformed church in Gettysburg by the pastor, the Rev. N. L. Horn.

M. E. Congregation to Discuss Plans for New Church: Members of the Methodist Episcopal church will gather at a congregational meeting at two o'clock Sunday afternoon to discuss detailed plans for the new church building to be erected by the church this spring at the corner of York and Liberty streets.

Close Sessions of Farm School: Continuing Thursday afternoon an address on "Pruning," begun in the morning, Paul Thayer, extension pomologist of State College, brought to a close the three-day session of the Farmers' School for Adams county held annually under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension Association.

Rotarians Will Hear Coolidge: Local Rotarians have received news that President Coolidge will give a speech to all Rotarians in the country on February 22, the nineteenth anniversary of the founding of the organization, using the radio as a means of reaching his many thousands of listeners.

Personal: The Woman's League of Gettysburg College will hold a Valentine Tea in the social rooms of Christ Lutheran church on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Paul A. Martin entertained the members of the Wednesday Sewing Club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Broadway.

Miss Margaret McIlhenny, of Brooklyn, has returned to her home after visiting friends in York.

FOOL QUIZ ON INCOME BLANKS
STIRS SOLONS

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—Members of Congress took a shuddering look at the new income tax return blanks today and one of them, Senator Cotton Ed Smith, prophesied that the next 34 days would evoke the biggest a-whooping and a-hollering yet heard from the taxpayers.

Seldom in human history, they agreed, have so many owed so much with so few chances of figuring out the bad news unaided by a squad of accountants equipped with liquid cooled slide rules.

Those who stumbled through a searching query about fiduciary income on page one of Form 1040 bogged down on amortizable bond premiums, page two. With reflex action, most of the lawmakers at that point tossed the return forms to their cringing secretaries.

"Confuse People."

Over a wedge of lemon pie (with meringue) in the Senate restaurant, Senator Smith, an unreconstructed South Carolina Democrat, boomed out that it looked to him like the bureaucrats were a-trying to mess up and confuse the people.

"Why, son," he said, "I think those blanks are a crime against the law abiding citizens of this country. I believe one of the Senate page boys could make out a better one."

Before Smith had time to point out a likely page boy, a dozen of his colleagues came out in favor of Congress itself doing something to simplify the chore of paying federal taxes.

"Tax implication," declared Senator Byrd (D-Va), sworn enemy of complicated questionnaires, "is one of the most challenging problems before Congress this year."

Jackass Questions: Senator Wiley (R-Wis) likened the present blanks to a Chinese

puzzle.

One question in particular on Form 1040 aroused the grudging admiration of the legislators for its phrasing. It asks:

"Was the rate of your salary or wages increased or decreased during your taxable year? (Yes or No.)"

Senator Radcliffe (D-Md) the only senator discovered to make out his own return, commented:

GOP CHIEFS TO VOICE HOPES AT LINCOLN FETES

By JACK BELL

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP) — The armed services vote controversy bloomed into a full fledged campaign issue today as Republican leaders tuned up for a series of major speeches at several of the party's scheduled 2,000 Lincoln Birthday dinners.

Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, said he would answer President Roosevelt's contention that a state absentee ballot measure supported by most congressional Republicans was a fraud.

Halleck said he will pledge his party to do everything it can to deliver a "real" ballot into the hands of fighting men everywhere. He speaks at Pontiac, Mich., tomorrow night and in Philadelphia Saturday night.

Martin in Wheeling
House Minority Leader Martin (Mass.) said he expects to give the Republican viewpoint on the service vote controversy at a Lincoln Birth-day talk in Wheeling, W. Va., Saturday night.

CAMPAIGN FOR HUON AREA IS NEARING CLOSE

By ROBERT EUNSON

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Feb. 10 (AP) — Australian troops pushing up the New Guinea northeast coast are expected to make contact soon with American troops only seven miles away, virtually ending the Huon peninsula campaign which began five months ago.

An Australian officer at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters today expressed expectation of contact of the two forces and commented "the Jap is thoroughly beaten."

Late reports placed elements of the American 32nd Division, which made an invasion landing at Saidor Jan. 2, at Old Yagonia, 15 miles below Saidor and only seven miles from the Aussies who have been marching their way along the coast 130 miles through jungle and bush in the past three months.

Now Japs Leave Madang

Union of the two forces may produce an Allied drive on the Japanese coastal base at Madang, about 60 miles along the coast northwest of Saidor.

But today, Olen Clements, Associated Press war correspondent, reported there was evidence that the Japanese have abandoned Madang. American bombing crews sweeping low over the base saw indications

JAPS BUILDING FOR AIR DEFENSE

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP) — An estimate that Japanese factories are turning out aircraft at a rate of 1,200 or more a month came from high quarters here Wednesday, coupled with a report that the Japanese—like the Germans—are concentrating significantly on defensive types.

This report on Nipponese production, about 100 percent higher than most of the guesses made since Pearl Harbor, would go far to explain the enemy's apparent ability to keep replacing his heavy losses, and indicate that his reserve of planes has not been reduced appreciably.

In a little more than a month, from Jan. 1 to Feb. 6, the Japanese lost more than 700 planes in the Pacific—more than 200 of them downed on the ground. The total was nearly 60 percent of the estimated Japanese monthly output.

HINTS FINLAND TAKES OPENING STEP FOR PEACE

Stockholm, Feb. 10 (AP)—Peace-hungry Finland, caught as a German ally in the middle of a war she never wanted, was reported seeking a way out today on the basis of an American warning to act now or take the consequences.

A Helsinki dispatch said there was a "possibility that preliminary decisions were taken" at a cabinet session last night and added that the Finnish public "knows how important any decisions will be."

At the same time the independent Helsinki Sanomat, making the first Finnish editorial comment on U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull's recent statement, declared that when the United States appeals to Finland to "step out of the war, this finds a deep echo among our peace-loving people."

Poses Big Problem
The Helsinki dispatch, written by the correspondent of the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter, said the cabinet meeting, a regular Wednesday night session, was preceded during the day by a closed council of the parliamentary foreign policy

Lift Deferments Of Brewster Workers

Harrisburg, Feb. 10 (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters disclosed withdrawal of occupational deferment previously granted 595 workers of the Brewster Aeronautical Corporation's Johnsville plant through a revised replacement schedule worked out by draft officials, the management and the navy.

The revised plan granted six months deferment to 62 single men, nearly all engineers with college degrees performing vital work at the plant.

The 595 workers, who were originally granted deferments of more than six months, were made available for induction through February, March and April under the revised plan.

committee at which Sir Henrik Ramsay, foreign minister, reviewed the situation for an hour.

The correspondent said Finnish political circles had voiced criticism of the government for failing to inform the committee earlier of Hull's statement, which was reported transmitted to Ramsay a week ago today.

The United States and Finland remain at peace, although at one time last spring a diplomatic break appeared likely. The United States legation in the Finnish capital is still open, though manner only by a subordinate official.

While apparently seeking a path to peace, Finland is sending many children to Sweden to escape the horrors of any further air attacks such as those carried out Sunday night on Helsinki by Russian bombers.

THREE BLOCKS IN JAP WALL TO FALL SOON

By HAROLD STREETER
Associated Press War Editor

Three vital blocks in Japan's Pacific defense wall, through which cracks are spreading almost too slowly to be noticed in the war reports, are going to tumble down one of these days.

They are the 150 mile length of Bougainville-Buka in the northern Solomons, the 370 mile length of New Britain and the more than 200 miles of coast between Madang and Wewak on northeastern New Guinea. These defense blocks are on one flank of Truk and bar the way back to the Philippines.

Hard Pressed

Deterioration of Japan's positions in the sector has been overshadowed by the more readily-grasped invasion of the Marshall islands.

Bougainville's Japanese have had virtually no defending planes and no protective warships since last November. Supply by barge has been strictly hit or miss.

New Britain's Japanese air strength has been limited almost entirely in recent months to defense of Rabaul. Enemy supply vessels still move into Sipson harbor, where American torpedo and dive bombers go after them with increasing frequency; elsewhere on the island, Japanese garrisons rely on barges.

Raids against the big Nipponese air base at Wewak usually stir up air opposition but Japanese planes do not seem to venture far from there. Air bases at Madang and Alexishafen have been defended almost exclusively by ground fire. Now word comes that the Japs may have abandoned Madang.

Invasion Spots

One crack in the defense wall, which may have escaped attention, has been made by guns of busy American destroyers in the Solomons.

The situation in brief is this: On Bougainville, we have wedged firmly into the defense wall at Empress Augusta bay, on New Britain there are wedges at Cape Gloucester and

U. S. unemployed now total around 700,000.

STEAL NARCOTICS

Philadelphia, Feb. 10 (AP)—"Old-time gangsters" have stolen more than $50,000 in narcotics in 60 drug store robberies here during the last five months, Terry A. Talent, head of the federal narcotics squad, estimated. Talent attributed the thefts to the war-time stoppage of narcotics shipments from abroad.

Scotch and Irish as late as the end of the 18th century buried butter in peat bogs for "aging and flavoring."

STATE VOTERS
FIND HARMONY
IN BOTH PARTIES

By L. U. LESLIE
Harrisburg, Feb. 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania's 5,000,000 voters, long accustomed to fearing primary fights in both major parties, were presented Wednesday with the novel situation of each going into the 1944 campaigns on a note of harmony.

The Republican state organization threw its support Tuesday night to U. S. Senator James J. Davis for re-election, endorsing him for the party nomination for the first time since he won the senate seat in 1930.

Governor Martin and State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor announced support for Davis at the chief executive's press conference at which Martin also announced appointment of former Governor Arthur H. James to the state superior court.

Many qualify
James and Judge J. Frank Graff, of Armstrong county, compose the Republican slate for superior court with Justice Howard W. Hughes, of Washington county, running for a full 21-year term.

The Governor said selections for auditor general and state treasurer were still undecided. Taylor commented that G. Harold Watkins, of Schuylkill county, and City Treasurer Edgar W. Baird, Jr., of Philadelphia, were "still in the picture."

"There are a good many citizens in Pennsylvania to qualify for the fiscal posts," the Governor observed.

No opposition
Democratic party leaders, split since the memorable 1939 scrap which brought on a grand jury investigation, got behind a single ticket last week, presenting a harmonious front for the first time since 1936.

Weeks of conferences by Democratic State Chairman David L.
Lawrence and U. S. Senator Joseph
G. Guffey—rival faction leaders after the break—with county leaders throughout the state preceded endorsement of the "united front" ticket headed by Congressman Francis J. Myers, of Philadelphia, for the U. S. senate.

The move to bring Davis and the Republican organization together after a 14-year estrangement developed last week after many conferences of organization leaders failed to bring out a candidate to oppose him.

Ex-Boxer On Trial
For Woman's Murder

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 10 (AP)—
Defense counsel was called to begin summation today in the trial of Nicholas "Battling Bozo" Sura, 40-year-old miner and former boxer charged with murder in the axe bludgeoning of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Gabriella Beck.

Judge T. F. Farrell said the case would go to the jury tomorrow.

The prosecution charges that Sura killed Mrs. Beck and seriously injured his wife last Dec. 9 in the Hanover town silk mill where both were employed.

On the witness stand yesterday
Sura said he went to the mill, carrying an axe, to seek a reconciliation with Irene Sura after a several-weeks' separation.

An argument developed and he held Mrs. Sura with one hand, the axe in the other, he said. Mrs. Beck ran up and together they scratched him, pulled his hair and mauled him so that he swung the axe wildly in self-protection, he added.

ALLIES POUND
GERMANY THIRD
TIME IN 3 DAYS

By W. W. HERCHER

London, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Berlin
radio said today that "a great air battle developed this morning" during a penetration of northwestern Germany by "strong American bomber formations."

There were no early Allied announcements of raids on Germany by American heavy bombers, but Berlin's long-wave transmitters began shutting down this morning shortly after great clouds of American marauder bombers swarmed across the channel.

The Maloney amendment was the chief hope of the Administration leadership in its fight against passage of the anti-subsidy bill of Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.). A coalition of Republicans and Democrats from the south and west rejected it almost as decisively as the House voted 278 to 117 for a similar bill last November.

The new marauder attack was the second to be made in the channel. The marauders hammered at installations backing up the Nazis' Atlantic wall in northern France for the third straight day after flying 550 sorties in 48 hours without a single loss.

Senate Post War Economic Policy And Planning Committee Takes First Step

START MOVE TO KEEP AAF UNIT

(Editor's note: This is the first of two stories on the report of the Senate's post war economic policy and planning committee, the most concrete batch of suggestions to come out of Congress on getting America back on its peacetime feet. Today the problems are outlined; tomorrow the suggestions for handling them.)

By JAMES MARLOW AND

GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—This country has been doused for months by speeches and essays on how to convert America's vast manufacturing plant from war to civilian production when hostilities end.

Reason for the need of smooth conversion:

1. To prevent mass unemployment by making the shift-over fast.
2. To cut government red-tape which might leave plants dawdling for months while settlements on their cancelled contracts are worked out.

Recommendations

The Senate's special committee on post war economic policy and planning now makes the first batch of definite recommendations to come out of congress on this subject.

The committee suggests immediate creation of an office of demobilization, and here are some of the problems facing such an agency, according to the committee.

Since Pearl Harbor about 10,000 prime contracts have been cancelled for the convenience of the government. Most of them have been replaced with other government contracts and required only a change-over from one type of war construction to another.

But with the remainder — those who did not get new contracts — the average time required for settling their contracts has been six to eight months.

This is an example of what might happen after the war unless plans for speedy handling of cancellations are worked out. Employment would surely suffer, since many factories have their entire working capital tied up in their contracts. Even with substantial payment against their claims they will be handicapped until they know with certainty the total they are to receive from the government.

Others have filled their factories with inventories for the manufacture of war goods. And those inventories must be moved out before the plants can produce for civilians.

More Machinery

Still others have sold their plants with government-owned machinery which must be moved out so that their own machinery can be moved back in.

And still others have sold, at the government's suggestion, machinery not needed for war production but which must be replaced before they can produce for peace.

The government has spent about 15 billion dollars on new plants since the war started. Private industry has spent perhaps four billion dollars. Some of these plants the government will need to keep in operation.

Some will have to be kept in a stand-by condition. Others will be suitable for conversion to peacetime production. Others, for various reasons, will have no value as manufacturing plants.

The government goods on hand when the war ends may reach 75 billion dollars in value.

Says the committee:

"The problem of marketing these

School Children Double Collection Of Tin Can Scrap

Harrisburg, Feb. 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania school children in January gathered 8,630,023 prepared tin cans for war salvage in a state defense council competition.

Frank R. Fish, of the Department of Public Instruction, reported to the council's salvage committee the cans were collected by pupils in 2,200 schools in 60 counties to more than double the 3,316,537 cans turned in by 629 schools in December.

William Alloway, a pupil of the Daniel Webster school in Williamsport, collected 15,242 cans to become the champion collector for January, while Luzerne county pupils gathered 1,533,854 cans to top all other counties.

Champion school of the state for January was the Broughton school, near Wellsboro, Tioga county, where 18 enrolled pupils collected 11,250 cans for an average of 625 cans per pupil.

The salvage committee awards monthly a flag to the school in each county salvage the ETAAON 5th county gathering the greatest number of prepared cans per pupil.

SPECIAL TEACHERS

Philadelphia, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Philadelphia Board of Education has created a special class of "duration" substitute teachers, who will be paid on a yearly basis rather than at the current rate of $6 per day in elementary schools and $7.50 in high schools. They will receive $1,700 to $2,000.

Inventories so as to secure their greatest economic use and at the same time not disrupt the economy will tax the best minds in America."

GOP LEADERS
PICK MEN FOR STATE SLATE

Harrisburg, Feb. 10 (AP)—Endorsement of State Senator G. Harold Watkins of Schuylkill county for auditor general and Edgar W. Baird, Jr., of Philadelphia, for state treasurer completed the Republican organization's state-wide slate for Pennsylvania's April primary.

State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor announced the choice yesterday. Watkins is Republican chairman of Schuylkill county and Baird is city treasurer of Philadelphia.

Slating of the two followed the formal announcement by U. S. Senator James J. Davis of his candidacy for re-election with the backing of the GOP organization for the first time in 14 years.

Taylor also announced the party's delegates-at-large to the Republican Presidential convention will be Governor Martin, National Committee Chairman G. Mason Owlett and Mrs. Worthington Scranton and himself. Alternates will be selected later.

Commenting on the organization's support of Davis, Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence declared in a statement:

Philadelphia, Feb. 10 (AP)—Sing Sing prison's chaplain says America's prison population has produced $100,000,000 worth of war materials and bought $15,000,000 in war bonds. Chaplain E. J. Stanley Sheppard, who is director of the men's prison bureau of the Salvation Army, also said in an address here that prisoners have contributed hundreds of thousands of quarts of blood to the Red Cross.

China is certainly not very optimistic about Pennsylvania when it does not produce one of their own as a candidate for U. S. Senator. With (Attorney General James H.) Duff, (Lieut. Governor John C.) Lawrence referred to Republican leaders Joseph N. Pew, oil millionaire, and Joseph R. Grundy, manufacturer. The Democrats have endorsed Congressman Francis J. Myers, of Philadelphia for the Senate, said rules and regulations.

STATE DEFENSE COUNCIL ABLE TO FORCE TEST

Harrisburg, Feb. 10 (AP)—Attorney General James H. Duff ruled Wednesday that the State Defense Council has authority to enforce practice blackout regulations where a local council fails to hold a test.

The opinion was asked by executive director Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison after Waynesboro defense council announced it would not participate in blackout tests.

Dr. Hutchison was advised that: "1—Request should be made to the executive authority of the political subdivision — appointing the local council of defense to dismiss those responsible for the refusal and appoint others who will comply with said rules and regulations.

"—2—You may ask the courts for a writ of mandamus to compel members of the local council of defense to comply with the rules and regulations of the state council of defense; or you may refer the matter to the Third Service command of the U. S. Army for appropriate action under the Federal law.

"—3—Any citizen may bring an action before a justice of the peace, alderman or magistrate for a violation of the air precautions act."

The state council called attention to the fact that "Waynesboro has since indicated that it will cooperate in future drills under the new army schedule of one practice every three months" but added the opinion, however, "has significance now because of its general state wide application."

STRIP MINING
IMPROVES SOIL
ASSERT SOLONS

By RALPH E. WALLIS

Harrisburg, Feb. 10 (AP)—A legislative committee believes strip mining has improved the agricultural qualities of the soil in western Pennsylvania soft coal fields.

"We have found that soil uprooted in surface mining of coal is richer in the bituminous region than it was before it was disturbed," declared Rep. Earl E. Hewitt, Jr. (R-Indiana), vice-chairman of the committee now studying the strip mining problem.

"The general feeling is that soil piled up by strip mining would be good for reforestation projects and for fruit tree planting—if the ground was leveled and pits filled in."

Hewitt said, however, the situation is not the same in the hard coal belt and no data have been produced that would lead the committee to believe reforestation work can be effective there.

"We have reached no definite conclusions on the strip mining problem, the representative asserted as the committee closed two days of hearings at the capitol.

"We recorded testimony from opponents and proponents of strip mining as well as heads of several state departments and we'll have to study every angle before we reach a decision."

Hewitt added that "something should be done" to leave the land gutted by strip mining in "the most productive state for future generations as well as for our own."

Total economic costs of occupational accidents in this country were approximately $2,300,000,000 in 1942.

Chapter 17
"You're worth it, Julie."

The landlady poked an excited head in at Julie's call to come in. "I just saw his car. It's a honey." She came in and cocked her head to one side with approving clucks as Julie adjusted her before the mantel mirror. "I bet when you're a big movie star you'll be moving to a fancier place, eh?"

She was still talking when Marek knocked. He looked more handsome than usual with lines of fatigue sharpening his dark face. The chattering landlady fell silent at his brusque greeting. But when he looked at Julie warmth came into his smile.

"You are lovely, my dear." He moved forward to hold her emerald coat. Julie slid her arms into it. She was wondering how many months it would take her to earn such a dress as the gold one she was wearing. How simple it had been to buy it last year.

"I tried to look like an actress," she murmured with a demure twinkle.

As they rode through the twilight valley toward Hollywood, Marek asked no questions about her trouble the previous night. He talked, instead of his own work, the progress of her picture, the extra hours he was giving to his war duties. Only when they were moving smoothly along the curve of upper Sunset, with the lights of Hollywood and Los Angeles twinkling for miles below them, did he break off the calm, impersonal monologue. He glanced at her with a hesitant smile.

"I thought you might enjoy an informal dinner at my apartment tonight," he said casually, "and a chance to get acquainted with the people you'll work with."

"You're very thoughtful."

He drew the car to a smooth stop before the high, thin, many-windowed Sunrise Towers that dominated the curving street. A carboy slid behind the wheel and Marek took Julie to the top floor.

In the lavish grey-panelled, acoustically draped living room, Max Burnette and an angular, middle-aged woman were already having cocktails. Burnette rushed forward with both hands extended to greet Julie.

"How are you, darling?" he cried.

"Fine, thank you," Julie murmured, confused at his warm, familiar friendliness.

Still holding her hands, he whirled back to the woman. "Well?" he cried, belligerently. "What do you say now? Isn't she a discovery?"

"Visually, yes," the woman admitted with a nice smile.

Marek said, "This is your speech teacher, Julie—Mady Ardon."

It was a cozy evening. They sat around the fireplace in deep chairs while Marek's Filipino boy laid

The talk was fast, spiced with the doings of exotic personalities, and hilarious accidents at the studio. Julie was confused at first, but as Marek stopped to explain each unfamiliar term and phrase her fascination grew.

Burnette talked of casting difficulties on Julie's picture—the fat comedian who had taken off fifty pounds after his part had been written—so he could get into the army—the lack of male leads—the seriousness of defense job inroads in the ranks of bit players and dancers. The little singing star who had left the day before for overseas service with the Red Cross Recreational.

They told Julie the story of her picture in glowing, punch, picture terms. Burnette beamed at her responsiveness.

Mady Ardon admitted her voice was a joy. There would be little trouble with enunciation. Julie was pleased and excited at their enthusiasm.

Chick Matson breezed in around ten with some galleys of write-ups of Julie he had spotted in leading movie magazines. Julie felt a fresh tremor of excitement as she gazed at herself sprinkled through the articles in various glamour poses.

Marek's hands were on hers. He was smiling down at her with his gentle, half-bitter smile. "These will come out next week," he said. "You'll be a star in the public's eye. Will that make you happy, Julie?"

Julie's eyes fell before his gaze. The question threw her out of the make-believe world they had been planning all evening, back into her own.

"I don't know," she murmured. Max Burnette and Mady Ardon were grouped around a galley arguing heatedly. Marek said quietly to Julie, "I want you to see my study."

She followed him into the next room. He closed the door. Then instead of switching on lights, he crossed to pull back the curtains. A wall of windows disclosed twinkling, panoramic view of the miles of city below them.

"It's enchanting!" she breathed. "Perhaps," Marek said dryly. "To me it's a lonely view. I rarely look at it. Someday, I want to show you my house. It's the one place I like. My second wife didn't feel that way about it so we moved back to town. After the divorce I didn't go back. But I think you'd like it, Julie."

He seemed abruptly aware of the wistfulness in his voice and changed the subject brusquely. "I hope I didn't do wrong tonight in forcing the gang on you. Wanted you to get to know them, and thought maybe they'd be a distraction."

Julie smiled up at the dark line of his profile silhouetted against the city-lighted sky. "They were," she murmured. "You're very good to me, Marek."

"You're worth it, Julie."

They stood quietly a long moment looking out across the fairy-land of lights. Then Julie said slowly:

"I'm sorry about last night. It was Dave. I had dinner with him. He left this morning—for combat duty."

Marek said quietly, "You do like the boy, don't you?"

Julie nodded. Her throat ached with tears. "I love him. All I want in the world is him. But he doesn't feel that way about me . . ."

She stood there hands clenched but her anguish lightened somewhat by confession. And after a minute she felt Marek's arm about her. Heard his quiet voice holding a gentle note of irony.

"The world's a wider place than you believe, Julie, dear. When you're on top of the glamour heap, you can have him all right. That is, if you still want him . . ."

CERTIFY BIRTH WITH ADOPTION PAPERS, I. PLAN

Harrisburg, Feb. 10 (AP) — The State Health Department, acting on a justice department ruling, planned new procedure today to allow use of adoption certificates as proof for filing of delayed birth certificates for persons born in Pennsylvania.

Commenting on the justice department's interpretation of the 1943 uniform vital statistics law, Dr. A. H. Stewart, health secretary, said permission to accept adoption certificates filed by clerks of courts as proof "will take care of a great deal of unfortunate individuals who are unable to secure any other proof."

The ruling also opened the way for refund of approximately $20,000 to 8,000 persons who paid a $2.50 fee in filing delayed birth certificates since last Sept. 1. The opinion held a section of a 1941 law requiring the fee was repealed by the uniform act.

A delayed birth certificate is one which was not filed at time of birth and under the new law the bureau will charge $1 for issuance of certified copies of birth registration. Members of the armed forces receive such copies without charge.

Dr. Stewart urged persons seeking refunds to give the file number on the certificates with the date and place of birth.

In another health department development, Dr. Edgar S. Everhart, chief of the venereal disease control section, endorsed proposed legislation to compel persons infected with venereal disease to take treatment.

The proposal was made in Philadelphia by Dr. John H. Stokes, nationally known syphilitologist, who said it would be submitted to the next session of the legislature. He also urged that the state be empowered to provide free diagnosis and treatment and make blood tests of "reasonable suspects."

Sisters Suffocate As Home Is Burned

Dover, N. J., Feb. 10 (AP) — Two little sisters died from smoke and their brother was overcome when fire swept a little company-owned frame cottage in an iron mine village near here Tuesday as their parents were away at work on war jobs.

Carol Popovitch, 5 and Sonya, 7, were suffocated. Their brother, Michael, 8, was reported in fair condition today at Dover General hospital.

George Peer, driver of the Dover rescue squad, said firemen had not determined the cause of the fire in the four-room frame house at Mine Hill, about two miles west of here.

The children's mother found the house in flames when she returned from her job in a Dover box plant. Police Chief David Jones of Wharton said the father had left about an hour before to start work on the second shift at the Scrub Oak Iron Mine, where war demands have boomed operations.

CUT PULPWOOD NOW

More wood for pulp making is essential to keep our armed forces supplied with vital products. Extension foresters of the Pennsylvania State college say that the production of a few cords by each woodlot owner will go far toward relieving the present shortage of pulpwood.

WORKER KILLED

Philadelphia, Feb. 10 (AP) — A 78-year-old war worker was killed by an automobile while walking to his job Tuesday. He was Henry Derbyshire, former Chambersburg, Pa., councilman, a $1 a year man in the First World War, who left retirement a year ago to help the war effort. He was a consulting engineer.

See Change In Southern Economy

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP) — Officials here foresee a profound change in the economy of the south after the war, with the large-scale introduction of mechanical cotton pickers.

This is the way one official views it:

The change will not be complete for perhaps 15 years after the war but between 400,000 and 500,000 families who share-crop cotton now will either be thrown on the labor market or turn to other kinds of farming.

Reason: Mechanical cotton pickers can do the job so much cheaper than humans and on a faster scale.

Even the cotton-growing areas will change, with the bulk of the growing concentrated in the coastal plain country of South Georgia, Alabama, the Mississippi delta, and in the great new developments in Oklahoma and Texas.

First societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals were formed in England.

Commenting on the justice department's interpretation of the 1943 uniform vital statistics law, Dr. A. H. Stewart, health secretary, said permission to accept adoption certificates filed by clerks of courts as proof "will take care of a great deal of unfortunate individuals who are unable to secure any other proof."

The ruling also opened the way for refund of approximately $20,000 to 8,000 persons who paid a $2.50 fee in filing delayed birth certificates since last Sept. 1. The opinion held a section of a 1941 law requiring the fee was repealed by the uniform act.

A delayed birth certificate is one which was not filed at time of birth and under the new law the bureau will charge $1 for issuance of certified copies of birth registration. Members of the armed forces receive such copies without charge.

Dr. Stewart urged persons seeking refunds to give the file number on the certificates with the date and place of birth.

In another health department development, Dr. Edgar S. Everhart, chief of the venereal disease control section, endorsed proposed legislation to compel persons infected with venereal disease to take treatment.

The proposal was made in Philadelphia by Dr. John H. Stokes, nationally known syphilitologist, who said it would be submitted to the next session of the legislature. He also urged that the state be empowered to provide free diagnosis and treatment and make blood tests of "reasonable suspects."

Sisters Suffocate As Home Is Burned

Dover, N. J., Feb. 10 (AP) — Two little sisters died from smoke and their brother was overcome when fire swept a little company-owned frame cottage in an iron mine village near here Tuesday as their parents were away at work on war jobs.

Carol Popovitch, 5 and Sonya, 7, were suffocated. Their brother, Michael, 8, was reported in fair condition today at Dover General hospital.

George Peer, driver of the Dover rescue squad, said firemen had not determined the cause of the fire in the four-room frame house at Mine Hill, about two miles west of here.

The children's mother found the house in flames when she returned from her job in a Dover box plant. Police Chief David Jones of Wharton said the father had left about an hour before to start work on the second shift at the Scrub Oak Iron Mine, where war demands have boomed operations.

LARKIN DRUBS COSTANTINO; REVEAL VOTES

By TED METER

New York, Feb. 10 (AP) — The New York State Athletic Commission has started a boxing innovation that soon may become a universal practice—that of announcing from the ring how each judge voted.

The idea was tried out last night in Madison Square Garden at the Tippy Larkin-Lulu Costantino 10-rounders which Larkin, a 13 to 5 favorite, won easily. After announcer George Cobb had reeled off over the public address system how each official voted, everyone asked his neighbor how he liked it.

It was the general opinion among ringersiders that it was a good thing. Several pointed out that each official, knowing his vote would be publicly announced from the ring, would tend to be extra careful. There were some doubtful persons who asserted that the public announcement of the votes after a very close fight, for instance, might bring verbal abuse against the officials.

Continue Practice

Gen. John Phelan, chairman of the commission, and Promoter Mike Jacobs asserted that the practice would be followed at future garden bouts.

As for the fight, itself, it was one-sided with Larkin entertaining the crowd of 11,353 (gross gate $31,914) by using Costantino as an animated punching bag. Judge Joe Agnello gave Costantino only one round and Judge Sam Robinson gave him two. Referee Arthur Susskind (Young Otto) gave Larkin nine and called one even. The Associated Press gave Larkin eight, Costantino one and one round even.

Larkin, who forfeited a $1,000 bond by failing to make 137 pounds, used his longer reach and sharper punching powers to good advantage. In the fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth he jarred Lulu with stiff left jabs and long overhand rights, seldom getting a punch in return.

Larkin, who held a four-weight advantage at 139 1/2 pounds, now is in line for a possible 10 bout with Allie Stoltz of Newark, N. J.

DIVIDED VOTES

Philadelphia, Feb. 10 (AP) — Senator Davis (R-Pa.) voted against, and Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) voted for, an amendment to the CCC extension bill which would have made $1,500,000,000 available for food subsidies in 1944. The amendment was defeated 49-26.
